Moonlit Forest

The moon's light on the forest, stirs it's creatures. Owls swoop through the sky, guided by the light of the full moon, whilst deer tentatively edge out at dawn. When some animals bed down for the night, under the starry sky, others emerge.

When daylight breaks, tracks and trails are revealed; smaller creatures awaken and revel themselves.

'Moonlit Forest' is an ode to the woodlands that surround where I live; the deer I see in the first misty light of the mornings; and the calls of the owls I hear when falling to sleep; the songs from birds that ease me into the day, and the smallest of creatures I spy on my walks.

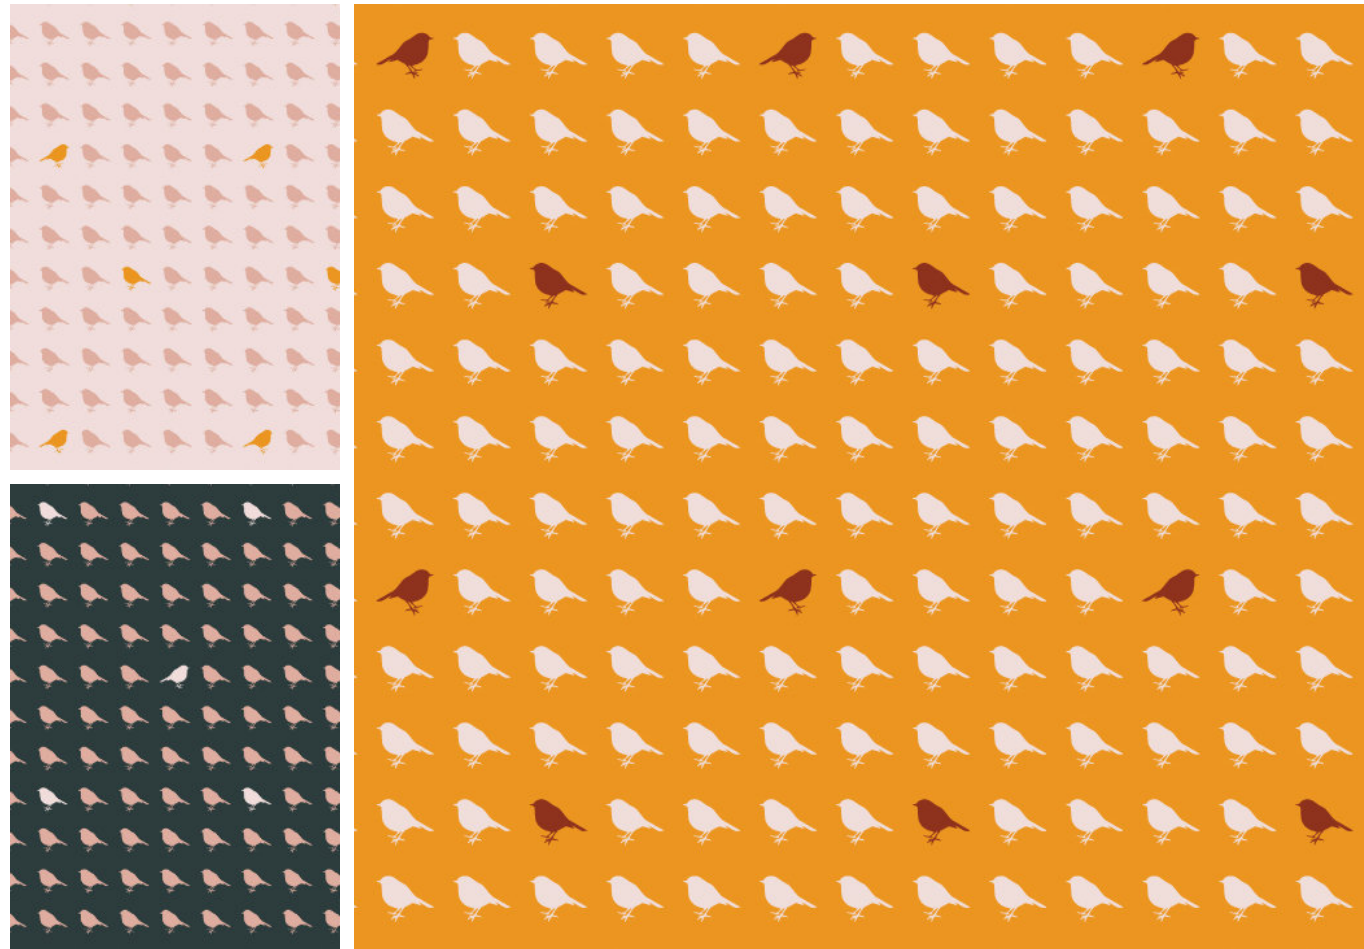

The patterns in this collection represent the wild and organic curves of nature, the creatures who dwell within, and the rhythm and cycles of the moon that shines down upon us all.
